

About Diversity Marketing and Communications

Diversity Marketing and Communications applies the science of human decision-making to inform, influence, and change behavior. We build communications campaigns that close the gap between awareness and action. Our approach yields meaningful and memorable results, particularly among audiences who may not readily connect with traditional marketing and media tactics.

Diversity delivers strategic solutions that support public involvement, community outreach, healthcare, recruitment, compliance, and other initiatives for businesses and public sector organizations. Our research-based, multi-channel campaigns include KPIs, with calls to action that track program effectiveness. All campaigns are scalable – from the hyper-local grassroots level to regional and national as needed

Now in our 15th year, Diversity is competitive with larger metropolitan agencies, yet maintains an entrepreneurial spirit, personal touch, and heartfelt passion for every project. We augment our core team of senior professionals with subject matter experts and KOLs who collectively deliver high value, customized and responsive business propositions.

Let our certified woman-owned small business help you dig deep, think big, and drive change.
